

1. MOBILE CINEMA - The Shetland Screening Review

From: the_macgregor*at*hotmail.com

http://shootingpeople.org/cards/The\_MacGregor

THE SHETLAND SCREENING

THE LITTLE TERRORIST by Ashvin Kumar_Not a first viewing for me, but still as enjoyable gets better with each viewing for me. Ashvin's narrative in this one is so natural and fictional portrayal and it pulls you in deep, right from the opening shots, despite unfamiliar still does that for me on my fifth viewing and I still discover fresh nuances I had not was not awarded top honours in the Oscars. I suppose the significance of a common stumps tree in a virtual no-man's land between India and Pakistan was a cultural perspective Hollywood jury. That leaves the film all the sweeter for the cricketing nations to save see.